01

Pick your main goal

What bothers you most right now: weight, energy, pain, gut issues, skin, sleep, or hormones?

02

Share your background

Your training, sleep, medications, health history, and labs can change what makes sense.

03

Ask safer questions

Leave with a short list of topics to discuss with a qualified medical provider.

Common starting points

- ✓ Weight / cravings: ask about GLP options and nutrition support.
- ✓ Low energy: ask about sleep, labs, thyroid, iron/B12, and recovery.
- ✓ Gut or skin issues: ask about inflammation support and triggers.
- ✓ Joint or tendon pain: ask about injury-focused recovery options.
- ✓ Sleep / recovery: ask whether training load, stress, or hormones are part of the problem.

Take the 3-minute questionnaire

Scan this during or after the clinic. It gives you simple discussion topics and plain-English reasons why they may fit your goals.

Peptide questionnaire

Short, simple, educational.

Good rule: if you are unsure, start with labs and safety — not products.

Bring if you have them

Recent labs, current medications, health history, injuries, sleep issues, weight-loss history, and your top 1–2 goals.
